

2009 ADDA National Champions

Cañon City High School won more places in the CAD contest than any other school in the nation.

The winners are: (Back Row) Brittany Carnes - Commercial Architectural Design, Porsche Mead - GIS Design, Steven Jarosz - Electrical Schematics, Zina Kalipolites - Piping Design, Benjamin Jarvis - Residential Design, Lucas Aguirre - Mechanical Design, Jeremy Carlson - Technical Illustration, Sheridan Cooper - Technical Illustration Elizabeth Canda - Electrical Schematics, (Middle Row) Andrew Steele - Electrical Schematics, Tara Dillon - Civil Design, Nils Nodland - Architectural Rendering, Nicholas Romano, Piping Design, Michael McFee - Civil Design, Shane Javernick - Residential Design, Jeremiah Johnson - Structural Design, Kyle Snow - Commercial Architectural Design, (Front Row) Briay Conditt - Technical Illustration, Katelyn Watson - Architectural Rendering, Britney Short - Commercial Architectural Design, Samantha Ary - Civil Design, Damon McCain - Structural Design. (not Pictured) Spencer Bradford - Electrical Schematics.

This year there were more winners in the national ADDA Computer Aid Design Contest from Cañon City High School than any previous year. This is the 42nd year of this design contest. The past four years have seen this contest change to all computer generated entries throughout the nation. There have been no manually drawn entries sent in from the CCHS program in the last 9 years. There are eleven categories of design projects allowed. Those are Residential Architecture, Commercial Architecture, Architectural Rendering, Machine/Mechanical Design, Mechanical Technical Illustration, Electrical/Electronic Design, Civil Design, Piping Design, Structural Steel and Concrete Design, Geographical Information System Design and Facility Management Design.
